FOUNDATIONS IN HEALTH SECURITY IN INDONESIA SHORT COURSE

25 – 29 July 2022
The Alana Hotel and Conference Centre
Sentul City, Bogor

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN HOW TO REDUCE THE RISK OF, AND PREPARE FOR, FUTURE INFECTIOUS DISEASE OUTBREAKS?

DO YOU WANT TO BECOME ONE OF INDONESIA’S LEADERS IN ONE HEALTH AND HEALTH SECURITY?

This course offers participants an exciting opportunity to be part of building Indonesia's capacity for managing health security using a One Health approach.

The course is sponsored by the Australia Indonesia Health Security Partnership and is delivered by global health experts from the Nossal Institute for Global Health.

Participants will build their knowledge and skills in One Health and health security through:

- Engaging with international tools for One Health and health security assessment and planning
- Learning about core health security processes such as prevention, risk-reduction & preparedness for infectious disease outbreaks
- Applying existing and new knowledge using Indonesia-based case studies, live data hubs, and a group work project
- Strengthening professional networks across different government sectors, to enhance coordination and collaboration of national health security efforts

Participation is free for all Indonesian government officials across sectors- selection criteria applied

Registrations close Thursday 14th July. To register your interest email info@aihsp.or.id

Places are limited to 30 participants
