Carolyn is passionate about addressing the health, social and structural inequities that impact on LGBTIQ+ people's capacity to fully participate in the communities in which they live, love, learn and play. She is regularly sought out as an LGBTIQ+ family/sexual violence, health, and mental health subject matter expert and she is an active advocate for strategic and systemic change that strengthens the health and wellbeing of the entire LGBTIQ+ community. Carolyn celebrates queer joy as an intentional act and firmly believes in the power of lived experience and peer expertise as the answer to humanising our world.

Carolyn is a LGBTIQ+ community leader and human rights advocate with more than 20 years' experience in healthcare and social justice. She has worked in a range of senior leadership roles across paediatric, adult and LGBTIQ+ community-controlled health services, most recently as Co-CEO of the Victorian Collaborative Centre for Mental Health and Wellbeing leading the reform of Victoria's mental health system. She is proud to Chair the board of LGBTIQ+ Health Australia, the national peak organisation for the health and wellbeing of LGBTIQ+ people and communities, and has been a member of the Board since 2020.
